IN NEW YOR!

(Special from United Press.)
New York, Aug. 21.—The reception from to-day to the New York and New Jersey "Veterans" who returns from the memorable slege and captu from the memorable siege and capture of Boston, was almost as hearty and realistic as if the bronzed dough boys had seen real-for-sure service where a bullet whizzed from a rifle was fired. Relatives, wives and sweethearts of the soldiers crowded the docks to-day when the Puritan and Pilgrim came down the Sound with the sweethearts from the seat of action. The Puritan brought the 7th and 14th New York National Guard regiments while the Pilgrim accommodated the 1st and 2nd New York batteries and the two signal corps companies from New Jersey.

The men seemed to be in good condition despite the hardships they suffered from bad weather during the campaign. Wilkesbarre, Aug. 21.—"I am happier now that I have killed her than I I had been since the moment she left me," today declared George L. the head of Father Synnott's grave on the glazed base of which are three appropriate inscriptions.

Father Thomas James Synnott was born in 1818 in Nicholastown, Killarney, Ireland. He came to this country in his boyhood and was ordained a priest of the Roman Catholic church in 1843. Nine years later he received his first pastorate, his appointment bringing him to this city. St. James church was then the only Roman Catholic house of worship in the city, and was inadequate for the rapidly growing Catholic population. The vigorous young priest determined to secure a new site on which to erect a church that would satisfy the needs of his flock. The property on which St. Augustine's church stands to-day was purchased and the church, school and parsonage erected. Father Synnott was the second Roman Catholic pastor in this city and the founder of St. Augustine's parish. He continued his labors as pastor until called to his reward on April 30, 1884.

The inscription on the monument expresses in simple terms, as Father Synnott would have it, the crowning effort of his priestly career: "For the spiritual welfare of his people and the greater glory of God, he secured this site, raised this church of Saint Augustine and built the school."

New Telegraph Order For Code Words

houses in Pittsburg are racking their brains today for new code words to be used in sending telegraphic messages as a result of a recent order issued by the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies which places the charges for code words on a basis of 5 letters to word. The new order goes into effect September 1 and does away with the old rule of allowing 10 letters to a word. The company decided the change was necessary owing to a tendency to stretch out words into whole sentences and form such into whole sentences and form such outlandish looking combinations of largest in the world, being the point letters that their operators spent as much time sending and receiving 10 code words as they were with 100 ordinary words.

Dorando at that time was an unknown waiter in a small cafe.

Fifteen months of Olympic running and American victories and defeats have, however, made Dorando one of the "big men" of this part of Italy and his wedding was one of the events of the season. At one time Signorina Teresa despaired of ever claiming Dorando as her husband, as it was reported while he was on his American tour that he had capitulated to the charms of an American girl.

For weeks the bride of today was disconsolate and friends wrote to Dorando to know the truth of the report. Dorando is reported to be worth $25,000. He is now in business for himself.
